House Passes Welfare Bill With a Boost

$325-Million Plan Gets $140-Million Add By Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House has passed a $325-million welfare bill, including a $140-million boost in relief payments which was not sought by President Kennedy.

The bill makes a series of administration-sponsored changes in the federal-state welfare program.

It passed the House Thursday on a 319-69 roll call vote. Before sending it to the Senate, the House rejected, 231 to 156, a Republican-backed move to top off the extra relief payments.

That provision would revise the federal-state formula for payments financing relief of aged, disabled and blind persons. The net effect would be an increase of about $4 monthly in the federal contribution. It would increase the top possible federal-state payment to $70 a month, at a total price tag of $140 million.

Republicans also objected to a provision boosting from 50 to 75 per cent the federal matching grants for state programs aimed at rehabilitation and self-sufficiency for people on relief rolls. But there was no formal move to eliminate that section.

The bill also would:

Authorize work and training programs for able-bodied relief recipients, set up by participating states without jeopardizing their federal aid.

Permit payments on behalf of children to persons other than their relatives, if the relatives misuse the relief money.

Extend for five years a temporary program of aid for children of the unemployed, and

B-70 Program Arguments May Be Over

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert indicated today the Air Force is accepting Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's decision against any immediate broadening of the RS70 bomber program.

"He makes his decision and that is binding upon us," Zuckert said in a statement.

The Air Force secretary spoke after McNamara made a bid for support in his fight against spending $320 million more on the controversial plane.

Under questioning from congressional committees, Zuckert and Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force chief of staff, have made strong arguments for a broader RS70 program than the Kennedy administration feels is justified.

Their position has won influential backing at the Capitol but McNamara shows signs of going over the legislators' heads to the public.

That was the implication in a 2,500-word statement by McNamara Thursday detailing his objections to pushing ahead with a bigger program for development of the proposed 2,000-mile-an-hour plane, first projected as the B70 bomber but now discussed as a reconnaissance-strike plane.

He said the RS70 would not add significantly to the strategic retaliatory capabilities after 1967 and could not be ready before 1970.

Knapp Withdraws

Charles Knapp, 1813 West Fourth, who previously announced that he was a write-in candidate for the office of city collector, late Thursday night said he would not actively seek that office.

Knapp said, "Since the Democratic party has nominated a candidate for city collector, I have chosen to withdraw my previous statement, in which I said I would be a write-in candidate."

SEC Quiz Of Brokers On Purchases

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Securities and Exchange Commission announced today it is quizzing all of the nation's 5,750 brokerage firms about dealings in 200 stocks.

The mammoth inquiry—part of a larger study of the entire securities industry—will yield the first detailed picture of exactly what goes on in the over-the-counter market. It is in this loosely organized market that brokers and investors trade in securities outside the regular stock exchanges.

Milton H. Cohen, director of the SEC's industry study, said a special questionnaire is being mailed to all brokerage houses "to obtain general information about the growth and size of the over-the-counter market and specific data as to transactions in that market." The completed questionnaires must be returned by April 9.

The SEC hopes, through an analysis of the questionnaires, to find out how many shares and how much money change hands in the market and how many brokers participate.

It also wants to know if it takes a large volume of trading to produce noteworthy price changes, and if brokers are overcharging customers on over-the-counter trades.

These trades are negotiated between the buyer and the seller—usually with brokers acting as their agents. In many cases, brokers help to make the market by buying and selling securities for their own account.

The questionnaires note that it is a criminal offense to submit false information to a federal government agency.

They go on to ask for a list of every over-the-counter trade in 115 active stocks on a single day—last Jan. 18. Brokers must disclose prices, commissions and markups. They need not identify individual customers involved.

Sedalian Dies In Accident Near Fremont

FREMONT, Mo. (AP)—An insurance salesman who might have suffered a heart seizure died today in the collision of his car and a truck on US 60 near Fremont.

The victim was R. W. Cary, 69, of 2528 North Woodlawn, Sedalia. Coroner Coleman McSpadden said Cary had in a pocket some medicine of a type usually prescribed for a heart ailment.

Arthur G. Smith, 35, truck driver of Clinton, Ky., told officers Cary's car suddenly swerved into the wrong lane of traffic and collided head on with his truck.

Smith was not hurt.

Cary, who resided at 2528 North Woodlawn Drive, was a salesman for the Druggist Mutual Insurance Co.

Crackdown By US On Communists

Two Top Leaders Arrested After Register Refusal

NEW YORK (AP)—Two top-ranking American Reds, Gus Hall and Benjamin J. Davis, have been arrested in the first crackdown on Communist party officials who refuse to register the party with the government under the Subversive Activities Control Act.

They were allowed to go free overnight, but were ordered to post bail of $5,000 each today.

Hall, 51, and Davis, 58, were arrested by U.S. marshals late Thursday at the American Communist party headquarters in the Chelsea section of Manhattan.

The arrests were made on warrants shortly after a federal grand jury in Washington indicted the two men on six counts each. Hall was listed as the Communist party's general secretary and Davis as national secretary. Davis, a Negro, was a member of the New York City Council years ago when a short-lived proportional representation system made it possible for a candidate of such a minority party to get elected.

Both Hall and Davis have served prison terms on Smith Act convictions for conspiracy to teach and advocate overthrow of the government by force and violence.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, who announced the indictments, commented in Washington that neither the indictments nor earlier action by the government in the same field means that the U.S. Communist party is outlawed or that membership in it is illegal.

Registration with the government is required in many fields, he said.

Kennedy said he wanted to clear up misunderstanding that he found overseas during his recent tour.

If convicted, they would face a possible maximum penalty of five years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine on each count of the six-count indictment.

Recommends Enlarging Kaysinger

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chief of Army engineers recommended today enlargement of the Kaysinger Bluff Reservoir in Missouri to include power facilities and raise the height of the reservoir.

Lt. Gen. W. K. Wilson, Jr., chief of Army engineers, submitted his recommendation to Secretary of the Army Elvis J. Stahr. It is one of the last preliminaries to move for congressional authorization of the enlargement.

The project, authorized by Congress in 1948, would be modified to include 100,000 kilowatt power facilities and to raise the reservoir lake 27 feet.

Hunt Missing Airliner

Vanished At Sea With 107 Aboard

MANILA (AP)—U. S. military planes and ships pressed a hunt between Guam and the Philippines tonight for a chartered airliner which vanished at sea with 107 persons, chiefly American Army men, on a flight to war-torn South Viet Nam.

A full 24 hours passed since the four-engine Super Constellation, owned by the California-based Flying Tiger Line, radioed its last message. This was a routine report to Guam from a position 270 miles west of that U.S. base in the western Pacific, as it headed for Clark Air Force Base, north of Manila.

Search craft crisscrossed 75,000 miles of the Pacific fruitlessly by daylight and were continuing through the night. Weather was excellent and the sea normal.

The Super Constellation carried a crew of 11 Americans, 93 U. S. Army personnel and three South Vietnamese. Travis Air Force Base in California said, four women were among the crew.

Military sources in Saigon assumed the troops were due to bolster the American forces backing South Viet Nam's government in its war against the Viet Cong guerrillas.

Fifteen aircraft based at Guam launched the hunt for the Flying Tiger plane. Spread over a 100-mile front, they flew 750 miles westward to a point about midway between Guam and the Philippines—and then retraced their course eastward.

The plane took off from Guam at 8:57 p.m. Thursday night carrying fuel for about nine hours flying for the 1,600-mile, eight-hour hop to Clark Air Force Base, north of Manila. It was last heard from 80 minutes later when the pilot sent a routine radio message to Guam from about 270 miles west of that American island base.

The Clark Field Rescue Coordinating Center declared the airliner missing this morning. A U.S. Navy spokesman said it was believed the plane went down closer to Guam than to the Philippines.

At least one Missourian was aboard the plane.

He is Sgt. I-C Sidney L. Grisom, husband of Mrs. Suzanne A. Grisom, general delivery, Newburg, Mo.

Accuse US Of Seeking Nuclear Race

Arms Talk Failure Blame May Be Placed With US

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union accused the United States today of seeking resumption of a nuclear arms testing race and said American negotiations in Geneva are avoiding a serious approach to this problem.

The charge from Soviet Ambassador Semyon Tsarapkin appears to represent an attempt by the Kremlin to make the United States shoulder blame for any new round of nuclear test explosions.

It came as Eastern and Western groupings in the 17-nation disarmament conference began openly to woo the eight countries in the middle section—Brazil, India, Mexico, the United Arab Republic, Sweden, Burma, Nigeria and Ethiopia.

The eight middle men as they have been called began their own moves in the conference to keep the United States and the Soviet Union negotiating on the widest possible range of disarmament and nuclear testing problems.

Titan 2 Off On Maiden Space Voyage

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The most powerful United States military rocket ever flown, the towering Titan 2, successfully passed its maiden test flight today, streaking to a south Atlantic target more than 5,000 miles away.

The success, announced by the Air Force, bolstered defense department hopes of fully developing the blockbuster weapon in about a year and gave tremendous boost to future U.S. manned and unmanned space exploration plans.

Titan 2 is ticketed as the launching vehicle for several space programs, including the two-man Gemini space capsule and the dyna-soar manned bomber.

The Air Force announcement said the vehicle met all test objectives on the 30-minute flight.

Gas Tax Amendment Court Test Seen

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Missouri's cities and counties had better lay a little street and road repair money by for emergencies.

It's true, the voters overwhelmingly approved the gas tax sharing amendment last week so cities and counties will share in the continued five cents a gallon state gasoline tax.

But Atty. Gen. Thomas F. Eagleton ruled Thursday the amendment won't be effective until the first of April. Some cities already have rescinded their local gas taxes effective on that date.

Collectors of the tax don't have to report the April receipts until about May 21. It will take a little while for the state to send the proper portions of the money back to cities and counties.

There's always the possibility, too, that someone may seek a court test of the entire amendment or any portion of it. Some cities already have expressed disagreement with the wording that only incorporated areas of 200 or more population, based on the 1960 census, can get a city share of the tax. Many have increased in size since the 1960 federal census was taken.

Some Confusion

Role In Viet Nam Hard to Portray

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is finding it harder to portray its military men in South Viet Nam as purely sideline coaches in the war against Communist guerrillas.

A reporter raised the point at a news conference Thursday when he told Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara "there is some confusion as to the precise U.S. military role in South Viet Nam."

The Pentagon chief acknowledged some sporadic fire has been aimed at U.S. personnel "and in a few minor instances they have had to return that fire in self protection."

Further questioning brought out that the fire was returned by Americans from aircraft as well as on the ground.

For some time, American specialists in guerrilla warfare have accompanied Vietnamese army units into the jungles and rice paddies where the Communist Viet Cong lurk. On occasion, they have found themselves in the midst of shooting while aiding the Vietnamese in on the job training.

How does an American in such a situation know when bullets are aimed at him alone? Can he be expected to take the time to make sure before firing himself? Nobody here has spelled out the ground rules that explicitly.

Reports from Saigon have said aircraft flown by American and Vietnamese pilots have bombed and strafed Communist concentrations.

The Pettis County Court today appointed Jim Carter and Sam Sloan to the Green Ridge Special Road District board, to replace Dewey Miller and Loy Smith.

Bernard Dove is the other member of the board.

Space Effort Threat

Reds Rattle Invulnerable New Vehicle

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev announced today the Soviet Union has put a new space vehicle in orbit. At the same time he threatened the United States with what he called a "global rocket," invulnerable to antimissile defenses.

The Soviet leader said all American efforts to interdict the new weapon, as he described it, would be in vain.

"The time has passed when the Americans can feel defended from the consequences of war," he said.

Khrushchev gave no details of what the stage of development the so-called new weapon might be.

He made his remarks in the course of an election rally, preliminary to Sunday's voting in the Soviet Union. Earlier at the rally he had announced orbiting of a new space vehicle. Tass news agency said it was "an artificial earth satellite launched with a view to continuing the Soviet program of outer space research."

There was no announcement whether a man or other living being was aboard.

Khrushchev made his statement about the "global rocket" to reinforce his views on the current disarmament negotiations at Geneva. Referring to Western proposals for an effective control system, he said "we will never agree to this."

A control system, he argued, would be nothing but an espionage service for the West.

Khrushchev made the announcement in a completely offhand manner while a scientist was speaking at the meeting in the Kremlin.

The scientist, Alexander Yshlinsky, commented "We are launching cosmic rockets" and Khrushchev interrupted from his seat back of the rostrum.

"One was launched today at 3 o'clock and it is already in orbit," he said.

He did not specify whether it was 3 a.m. or 3 p.m. and Soviet sources were unable to say immediately.

Teeth In Law On Welfare, Pension Fund

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has sent President Kennedy legislation to set up tighter protection for $60 billion in pension and welfare funds.

The Senate Thursday cleared a compromised version of the bill by voice vote soon after the House passed it 283-108.

An effort by House Republicans to send the bill back to a Senate-House conference was defeated on a 217-182 roll call vote.

This was the second important item on Kennedy's legislative program to be sent to White House this session. The first, a manpower retraining bill, received final congressional action Tuesday and was signed into law Thursday.

The pension-welfare plan bill is designed to prevent wrongdoing in connection with funds set up for the benefit of an estimated 90 million Americans.

It puts enforcement teeth into a 1958 disclosure law covering the funds.

The new bill would:

1. Give the secretary of labor authority to require full and accurate detail regarding the operation of the plans.

2. Give the secretary power to investigate violations of the reporting provision and to enforce those provisions with injunctions.

3. Require bonding of administrators, officials and employees who handle plan funds and properties.

4. Provide criminal penalties for offering, accepting or soliciting bribes or kickbacks in administering the plans, for making false statements in the reports, or for stealing or embezzling plan funds or properties.

Carpenter for Next Mercury Ride

WASHINGTON (AP)—A heart condition detected more than two years ago will keep astronaut Donald K. Slayton from becoming the next American to venture into space.

The assignment of following along the trail blazed by John H. Glenn Jr. will go instead to M. Scott Carpenter, another member of the sevenman Mercury space team.

The switch in plans was announced Thursday night by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Earlier in the day an Air Force medical board had reviewed Slayton's condition—an "erratic heart rate"—and advised against his attempting the physically trying space mission.

On learning he had been scratched the Air Force major, 38, said "I'm very disappointed to say the least."

The space agency said the heart trouble was detected in November 1959, but it was decided to keep the former jet pilot in the program while keeping a close watch on his condition.

Scott Carpenter

Slayton was to have made the second U.S. orbital flight within the next month or two. Like Glenn he was to have circled the earth three times in a Mercury capsule.

While Slayton was disqualified from the next U.S. space flight, a space agency spokesman said he was "still a member of the Mercury program at this time." Further study of his condition will determine whether or not he will continue in it, the spokesman said.

After hearing that he had been replaced Slayton called his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Slayton, in Sparta, Wis., his hometown.

Mrs. Slayton said she felt sorry for her son. "I know he had his heart set on this, and it is difficult to come so close and not make it."

But the astronaut's father, 74, said he was relieved. He said he had advised his son, "don't let it get you down."

At Boulder, Colo., Florence Carpenter said she was delighted that her son would make the next space flight. "It took my breath away when I first heard the news but then I calmed down and realized it was what Scott had worked so hard for."

Carpenter is a native of Boulder. He is married and the father of four children. A lieutenant commander, he has been a Navy flier since 1949 and became a test pilot in 1954.

Slayton enlisted in the Air Force on his 18th birthday. During World War II he flew 56 aerial combat missions over Germany and seven over Japan. While in Germany he married a civilian secretary, Marjorie Lumney of California. They have a four-year-old son.

Two weeks ago Slayton and five other astronauts were in Houston, Tex., for a space briefing. He said he was looking forward to his space flight.

"I don't have much to say about it now," he said. "I probably will have more to say when I come back."

This study course is sponsored by the Training Union and everyone is invited to attend. There will be a class for every age group.

The books to be studied and the teachers are: Adult, "Christian Life," by Guy Moore, taught by Rev. J. R. Wallace; Young People, "Victorious Living," by W. F. Howard, taught by Mrs. George Curran; Intermediates, "Eight Steps Toward Maturity," by David E. Monroe, taught by Mrs. Larry Owen and Mrs. Darrell Ball; Beginners, "Sounds That Sing," taught by Mrs. Mary Gardner and Mrs. Russell Drenon. A nursery will be provided for the younger children.

Sunday morning the church will be honored with two special guests at the worship service, a representative from the Gideon organization, who will speak briefly to the congregation about the work of the Gideons, and a group of DeMolay boys, who will sit together with their Master Counselor, Waymon Hofheins. The DeMolay is a youth organization sponsored by the Master Masons A.F. and A.M. They are taught respect for God, nation, school and motherhood. One Sunday during the office term of the Master Counselor, the boys attend his church and sit together with him in a group. They will also be accompanied by some of the advisors.

Wesley Church Planning Week Of Evangelism

The Rev. Walter D. Niles, minister of the Wesley Methodist Church, has announced a week of evangelism starting at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, March 25, and going through Thursday evening, March 29. The Rev. Arnold Prater, minister of the First Methodist Church, Lebanon, will be guest preacher for the five evenings.

The theme for the week of evangelism will be "Jesus Christ Is Lord." Plans have been made for a fellowship hour after the service each evening, for those in attendance to become better acquainted with the church membership. A nursery will be provided each evening for the small children.

The Rev. Prater is the son of the Rev. J. D. Prater, a long-time pastor of the Southwest Conference and retired district superintendent. Rev. Prater started a career in business and later in life made the decision to become a minister. He has served the Methodist Church as a minister in Belton and Harrisonville before his current church in Lebanon. He is remembered by those in this area as the minister at the Lake Creek camp meeting two summers ago.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM

Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. A startling innovation is the sheer front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A feather-stitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem. The girdle itself is of "wonder" Lycra spandex fiber. It feels like nothing on but has such slimming strength it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim" is the peak achievement of the designer-genius, Olga.

Be "Suddenly Slim" today in either girdle or panty version. Call Chapman's, TA 6-2711 now.

Dog-Gone Bad Situation

For a time last week many of us were fearful the dog packs were going to take over the town.

Some of those groups of roving canines were vicious among themselves and toward men, women and children they encountered. Naturally numerous complaints came from the residential districts. Before the police or dog catcher arrived the animals scattered or moved to another part of town. The dog catcher finally threw up his hands and quit because he believed he wasn't getting cooperation.

Public attention to the condition, and appointment of another pound-master, seems to have discouraged the dogs but how they found out about it only a person who believes in thought-transference can explain.

We do know that pet owners who have been letting their animals run loose are not as numerous today as they were last week because dogs are being picked up on sight if they are careless enough not to streak for home base.

Spring is in the offing and the dog problem then will be a more pronounced problem to gardeners just as always when Fido sniffs with expectation of finding a partner down the street, or across town for that matter.

Maybe it's a good thing the dog pack trouble started early this year—an unusual circumstance. By time the householder gets out his garden tools there is hope pet owners will have become accustomed to keeping man's best friend at home.

If Mayor Silverman insists the dog laws be enforced from now on, chances are his administration will go out next month in a blaze of glory over a decidedly needed accomplishment in the field of community health and safety, albeit the dogs won't appreciate it.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Kennedy Brothers and Family Unity

By DREW PEARSON

(Editor's Note — Drew Pearson's column today takes the form of a letter to his eldest grandson.)

WASHINGTON, D. C.
MARCH 14, 1962

Dear Drew,

I guess you have been reading in the newspapers about President Kennedy's brothers, and how one recently went round the world, and the other is running for Senator from Massachusetts.

I have been thinking about this and wondering what would happen if you and your two brothers were in the same position. That doesn't mean that I'm nominating you for President, and Georgie for Attorney General, and Joe to be a senator — though it is a wonderful thing in this country that any boy can grow up to be President or run for the Senate.

But what I have really been thinking about is the unity of family life and the Kennedys.

A lot of people have been critical of having too many Kennedys on the payroll and in the public eye. And as a newspaperman I have always written about congressmen and other government officials who had relatives on the public payroll. This is because people should hold jobs because they are qualified, not because they are related to an important official.

And when President Kennedy first proposed that his brother Bobby take the Cabinet post of Attorney General, I told Bob that this would be a mistake. It was none of my business, of course, but your grandfather is always interfering in other people's business.

As I have watched him work, however, I think I was wrong. I watched him particularly on his recent round-the-world trip when he had to face all sorts of people, both hostile student crowds and friendly government officials. He was in a position where one mistake could have seriously hurt his brother in the White House, and, more important, hurt the United States. However, he made no mistakes. He not only handled himself with skill and courage but he managed to knock the heads of the Dutch and Indonesians together in a way that should prevent a war.

He told the Indonesians to their face that we were great friends of the Dutch; then he told the Dutch that we were also friends of the Indonesians and that we didn't want war between our friends. He was so vigorous and sincere about this that the Dutch and Indonesians now seem ready to sit down and talk peace instead of war.

Little Brother Bobby

I had an interesting experience with Attorney General Kennedy when I introduced him at the Big Brothers dinner. After ribbing him just a little, I said: "It's only fitting that the Big Brothers should have as their guest tonight the most famous little brother in the United States."

Bobby came right back by saying: "The reason I'm here is because my big brother told me to come."

He then went on to give a very interesting account of something most people don't know about — his work with boys. When boys have been in trouble with the police and have to go to reformatories, they have a hard time getting started again when they come out. So the Attorney General, together with James Bennett who is an expert on these problems, has established "Half-way Houses" where boys can go to get a new start in life.

Because not all boys have the family you boys have to guide you and advise and help you.

So there are two things I've concluded about the Kennedy family: first, if you are qualified, if you can do a job really well, as Robert Kennedy is doing, you shouldn't be handicapped because you're someone's relative. Jobs should be based on merit, not on relationship.

Second, the Kennedy family has revived something we've been in danger of losing in America — the unity of the family.

Family Is First

When I was a boy, our family stuck together through thick and thin. Our father and mother taught us to be that way. This was true of our grandfathers' families and I think most American families in those days. There weren't so many distractions, such as automobiles, to separate families then.

This encouraged respect and love and co-operation, which are very important principles of life. Without them, our society could run downhill very fast and our country could become another Roman Empire.

So one thing the Kennedys have done is demonstrate the unity of family life. They get out and fight fiercely for each other. In some respects they remind me of you and Georgie and Joe. You sometimes quarrel among yourselves, but you help each other and fight for each other if anyone jumps on one of you. You stick together.

This week, President Kennedy's youngest brother is announcing he wants to run for Senator from Massachusetts. He is quite young and maybe it's a mistake. A lot of people will say we have too many Kennedys and that he is just riding on his big brother's coattails. However, if he has real ability, on his own, we should give him a chance. It will be up to the people of Massachusetts to decide in two very hot elections.

So regardless of whether you run for President or Senator or what you boys do when you grow up, just remember the importance of the family and keeping it together. You don't have to go into politics to do it.

To that end I hope you can all three spend the summer together.

Love from your Grandfather

Charity Deductions

A cancelled check will not be sufficient evidence for the Internal Revenue Service this year when it scrutinizes your gifts to charity.

In the past, a cancelled check to a church, school or other charitable organization was usually considered automatic proof for a deduction.

Many payments, says the I.R.S. are made to charitable organizations which are mostly for non-charitable purposes.

The Treasury is also watching expense accounts very carefully. The only safe protection is to be able to produce receipts in addition to cancelled checks just in case your deductions should be questioned.

It is unfortunate that this suspicion has arisen over charitable contributions, but it is because of the borderline activities of entirely too many tax payers.

Two By Two

An airborne Noah's ark has flown half way around the world to deliver a gift of paired animals to the children of India from the Washington Zoo and Boston's Franklin Park.

Like the animals in the biblical tale, they were chosen two by two, male and female. Two bison, two raccoons, two coyotes, two opossums, two pumas, two red foxes, two porcupines, two whistling swans, two deer and two coat imundi (small flesh eating animals like a raccoon with a long snout.)

Washington also designated a male black bear for the trip and Boston did the same thing. It wasn't certain whether the two bears were crated together for the journey because of a shortage of female bears or whether the donors got the genders mixed.

The World Today

Here We Go Again: Talk, No Action

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Just about four years ago Russia switched its ambassadors to Washington. Mikhail A. Menshikov, attired in smiles, arrived to take over.

He smiled and was pleasant for four years. The day he arrived he promised to work to "establish and strengthen the atmosphere of understanding and trust between our countries."

It was just about the time the United States and Russia, as busy as could be polishing their missiles, were rejecting by long-distance, in letters and pronouncements, each other's ideas on disarmament.

After four years the Soviets decided to change ambassadors again and now Anatoly F. Dobrynin, an expert on American affairs, has arrived to replace Menshikov who has been reassigned to a minor Soviet post.

Dobrynin got off a train quoting Thomas Jefferson and saying:

U.S.-Soviet relations are "tremendously important" in whether the world has peace or war and

Each weekday during Lent a prominent American invites you to join with him in his favorite prayer. Today, join with:

PATRICE MUNSEL

Ever this day be at my side, therefore it is "highly important to make a joint effort to normalize our relations and to improve them."

That was Thursday, the same day the United States and Russia at Geneva revealed plans which make them look no closer on disarmament and nuclear test bans than they were when Menshikov first arrived.

In the four years between arrivals of the two ambassadors there was much that happened, and much that didn't, on disarmament. There was much talking. But what didn't happen was agreement on anything.

When Menshikov came here the United States and Russia were still firing off their nuclear tests in the atmosphere. Later that year, 1958, they voluntarily suspended them.

Then for three years of voluntary no-testing they talked about agreeing on a permanent ban on testing. Actually they had 353 sessions which broke up with no agreement last January.

In that three-year period the two sides conducted what the State Department likes to call a "series of probes" into each other's intentions.

Toward the end of that same three-year period Russia began testing again in the atmosphere. The United States plans to do likewise next month.

But this was not all that happened, or didn't happen, between Menshikov and Dobrynin because a ban on nuclear tests is not all there is to disarmament. There is the big, broad problem of general disarmament.

It is almost incredible to go back over the record and note all that was said on both sides — on tests and disarmament — in statements, letters, pronouncements, and negotiations of one kind or another by Premier Khrushchev, Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy, secretaries of state and sundry representatives, statesmen and politicians.

A few examples of the conferences alone — and the conferences themselves were preceded by prodigious jockeying on both sides — make disarmament and modern man look as far off and windy as Mt. Everest.

In July 1958 East-West scientists met at Geneva to study the possibility of detecting violations of a possible agreement on suspension of nuclear tests.

On Nov. 1, 1958 there was a 10-nation conference on how to reduce the danger of surprise attack and this broke up in disagreement in six weeks.

Just two years ago this week — on March 15, 1960 — and in the same place as now, general disarmament talks began. Both sides were miles apart, as they were this week. The talks collapsed after 43 meetings.

Then for three months, starting in June 1961, the two sides met again, not to discuss disarmament but simply to discuss the question of how to start discussing disarmament.

When they finished the two sides issued a statement full of noble intentions which said nothing.

Here we go again.

We, the Women

Girls, Seek the Benefits Of a Man's Viewpoint

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Never ask another woman's opinion if you can ask a man's when—

You want help in picking out a dress that is becoming. (A man will see only how it looks on you. Another woman will think how it would look on her.)

You want to know whether you look better with your hair short or long. (A woman will choose the style she considers chic, rather than the one that makes her look pretty.)

You want to plan a dinner menu your men guests will enjoy. (A woman will be too calorie-conscious to suggest the kind of food most men really like.)

You want help in picking out a comfortable chair for the living room. (A man will sit in it. A woman will consider looks only.)

You want to know what to give a man for a gift. (A woman will suggest things she thinks a man ought to like. A man will suggest the things men wish women would give them.)

But if you want the real low-down on another woman—ask a woman. (This is one where a man's opinion isn't to be trusted.)

The Doctor's Mailbag

Nervous Or Neurotic? The Shade of Difference

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.

Q — Ever since my son has gone to medical school, all I hear is "neurosis." If I'm nervous about something, he says I'm a "neurotic." If I worry, he says it's my "neurosis." What's the difference between being nervous and being neurotic? What's the difference between worrying and having a neurosis?

A — You've asked a good question, dear mother. First off, let me tell you about your son. He's just like most medical students. They see everything in terms of illness or disease. I remember a wise instructor of my student days who warned our all-male class of the danger that faced us. "You boys," he said, "will soon have every symptom you hear about, maybe including morning sickness."

Now as to the differences you ask. Where does nervousness leave off and a neurosis begin? Where does worrying end and an anxiety neurosis come into the picture?

Let's reduce both questions to a specific instance for there's no definite yardstick with which to make a measurement. Suppose your son goes out on a date and doesn't get home by midnight. You wait up for him and, when he comes in, you rebuke him because you've been nervous about his safety.

Now, if his date was with someone who might have done him harm, or if he had to make his way home through a dangerous area, your nervousness would have been justified, and he'd be doing you an injustice if he said you were being neurotic.

But if his date was with a fellow student or a nice girl, and if his outing took him no further than the near vicinity of your home and, if under these circumstances, you still stayed up for his return, worried unduly and unnecessarily and then rebuked him for his delayed homecoming, he'd be justified in stating that you suffered from anxiety neurosis.

In other words, you'd merely be "nervous" if your worry were justified by circumstances and if your anxiety disappeared when the circumstances no longer justified any feeling of apprehension. You'd be showing the signs of an "anxiety neurosis" if circumstances did not warrant the extent and duration of the "worry" you suffered and the rebuke you administered to him.

Like the Einstein theory, it's who resigned to devote all of his time to his farming interests. Mr. Hanley is concluding his second term as Pettis county collector.

One day he'll take a group of Cub Scouts for a nature walk. Next day he'll talk to a group of businessmen at lunch about improving their sales. (He used to be a sales manager.) Next day he'll visit the veterans hospital. Some days he'll do nothing but work on a new room in the basement. Other days he'll set out to read a book, and he'll read it in a single day. He has an objective for each day and he won't sleep until he's achieved it. What can I do to get him to relax? I'm afraid the pace will kill him.

DEAR WIFE: Better hop on your husband's bandwagon. Looks as if he's having the time of his life. If he weren't, he wouldn't continue his many activities. Many discover that in retirement they can really do all the things they've always wanted to do, but never had the time for. You should take a crack at a "project of the day" and see if it wouldn't perk up your life, too.

DEAR ARTHUR: I am a veteran of World War I. I am 70. I have no family and my monthly income amounts to $70. I don't have much money and unfortunately, I haven't been able to save any. Am I entitled to any burial benefits?

CAL

DEAR CAL: In addition to a burial with military honors in a national cemetery, you are entitled to a burial expense allowance, headstone and burial flag. You should see your local Veteran's Administration for details.

DEAR ARTHUR: My husband is 63 years old and is still working. I am three years older, but have never worked. Must I wait until he retires before I can collect Social Security?

MAY

DEAR MAY: Yes. You must wait until your husband applies for his benefits.

Search for Freedom (5) The Greek Way

by Don Oakley and John Lane

THE COURAGE OF FREE MEN
DECIDES THE COURSE OF HISTORY

European history is said to have begun with the battles of Marathon and Salamis (490 and 480 B.C.). For the Greek victories over the Persian hosts of Darius and Xerxes determined that the western world was to develop without rule from the east.

Not only in the arts and science but in the story of human liberty, Greece represents a high-water mark that was not to be reached again for 2,000 years.

Ancient Greece was a collection of city states, each with its own local gods and rulers. Fanatical devotion to their native cities kept the Greeks from uniting into one nation, except in loose confederations. Later, Athens ruled most of them through force of arms.

But it was in Athens that real freedom took its first steps. Under Solon in the 6th century B.C., laws were put into written form, the suffrage broadened, slavery for debt outlawed and large estates broken up.

In time, virtually all power passed to the Ecclesia, or popular assembly, which was open to all citizens. The local courts were also manned by citizens, who obeyed or changed the laws as they deemed fit—or were persuaded by demagogues. Any man was considered qualified—and entitled—to any of the public offices, which were filled not by election but by lot. Athens thus made it difficult for able men to become skilled, professional administrators. Strangely, 10 strategoi, or generals, were elected to posts of military authority.

Citizenship, however, belonged only to a large minority, less than half the population of several hundred thousand. Women were excluded from citizenship. Slaves and resident aliens could never hope to become citizens. Yet Greek democracy worked reasonably well because the population was small and the times were relatively uncomplex.

But the injustice that can come from the people with unlimited power, as well as from tyrants, is tragically shown in the famous trial and death of Socrates, whose only crime was holding unpopular opinions.

Postmaster Week Marked By Kiwanis

The responsibility and accountability of postmasters under present day rigid standards of performance was commented upon by William B. Nichols, assistant to the regional director for the St. Louis office of the Post Office department, speaking before the Sedalia Kiwanis club in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

He also reviewed the modern, efficient operations of the department under an annually increasing load of business. He mentioned that an effort was being made to spread the daily mail as a means of reducing costs. He said business firms could help materially in this project by depositing only essential mail at the close of business between 5 and 8 p.m., and mail the remainder the next morning. It is between 5 and 8 o'clock that 80 per cent of the mail is deposited and that is the reason for an appeal for public support of the new program to "spread the mail." He advocated the slogan, "Mail Early, Mail Often — For Better Service."

Mantle Provides Lead

Yanks Stretch Win Streak By Beating Pennant Winner

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees have stretched their winning streak to four over Cincinnati by beating the National League pennant winners in their first meeting since the 1961 World Series.

Mickey Mantle provided an early lead with a three-run homer in the first inning as the Yanks boosted their unbeaten streak to six games Thursday with an 8-3 victory over the inept Reds at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

It was the world champion Yankees first victory over National League competition and maintained the only unblemished record in the exhibition standings while pushing the Reds into sole possession of 10th place among senior circuit clubs with a 1-5 mark.

The Yanks collected nine hits Bud Daley, Rolfe Sheldon and former Red Marshall Bridges checked Cincinnati on six hits.

The Chicago White Sox remained right behind the Yanks in the AL standings, winning their third straight for a 5-1 record by whipping the Detroit Tigers 4-3 in 11 innings at Sarasota, Fla.

In other games, Boston edged San Francisco 7-6 in 11 innings at Phoenix, Washington walloped the Los Angeles Dodgers 9-4 at Pompano Beach, Kansas City whipped Minnesota 7-3 at West Palm Beach, Chicago's Cubs defeated the Los Angeles Angels 7-3 at Mesa and Houston beat Cleveland 4-2 at Apache Junction.

The New York Mets-Pittsburgh and Philadelphia-Milwaukee tilts were canceled due to rain, Baltimore and St. Louis were not scheduled.

Al Smith's third hit, a double leading off the 10th, led to the White Sox' winning run when Joe Cunningham singled him home.

Rookies Larry Wick and Bob Tillman hit three-run pinch-homers in the ninth as the Red Sox tied it and went on to beat the Giants in the 11th when rookie Dick Holden wild pitched Ed Bressoud home.

The Senators continued their long-distance clouting with Dale Long hitting two homers and Joe Hicks one against the Dodgers, who retaliated with Tommy Davis' third in three days and one by pitcher Larry Sherry. The A's struck for five runs in the second—three on a Manny Jimenez homer—as they handed the winless Twins their sixth defeat.

Home runs by Bob Will and Ken Hubbs carried the Cubs to their triumph over the Angels.

The Colts, outthit 7-4 by the Indians, were able to score three times in the sixth for win No. 2.

Countdown On Top Cage Team Begins

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The final countdown to determine the 1962 national collegiate basketball champion starts tonight.

Doubleheaders at four regional sites in the NCAA tourney will pare the field to eight teams and Saturday night's regional finals will cut the field to four for the national semi-finals and final at Louisville, Ky. next week.

The lineup.

East Regional at College Park, Md.

Wake Forest (19-8) vs St. Joseph's (Pa.) (18-8)

Villanova (20-6) vs NYU (19-4)

Midwest regional at Iowa City, Iowa

Kentucky (22-2) vs Butler (21-5)

Ohio State (23-1) vs Western Kentucky (17-8)

Midwest regionals at Manhattan, Kan.

Colorado (18-6) vs Texas Tech (19-6)

Cincinnati (25-2) vs Creighton (20-4)

West Regional at Provo, Utah

Oregon State (23-4) vs Pepperdine (19-6)

UCLA (16-9) vs Utah State (22-5)

The main interest will be on the games at Iowa City and Manhattan with the appearance of defending champion, Cincinnati, and top-ranked Ohio State, hopeful of getting another crack at Cincinnati in the national final at Louisville on March 24. Cincinnati stunned the Buckeyes with an overtime victory in last year's championship final.

The Buckeyes, with player-of-the-year Jerry Lucas, playing in his last NCAA tourney, and the Bearcats stress team play, always look for the good shot as their 45 per cent field goal average indicates, and they work just as hard on defense.

In capturing the Missouri Valley Conference playoff Monday, they chopped Bradley's high-powered offense almost in half, winning 61-46.

Creighton, coached by affable Red McManus, is playing in the NCAA for the first time since 1941, when Eddie Hickey was building the Bluejays from Omaha into a national power. In Silas, Creighton has a "can't-miss" future great, but it's questionable whether the young Negro from Oakland, Calif. can do it alone against a team with Cincinnati's balance and experience.

None of the other Creighton players averages in double figures although another sophomore, Jim Bakos, scored 20 points when the Bluejays won a first-round regional game from Memphis State 87-83 at Dallas Monday.

Texas Tech, which won a first round game from Air Force 68-66 holds an early-season 84-82 double overtime victory over Colorado at Lubbock. Coach Gene Gibson's starters are 6-10 Harold Hudgens, 5-10 Del Ray Mounts, 6-3 Mac Percival, and 6-4 Roger Hennig, all regulars at least two years, and 6-4 Bobby Gindorf, No. 6 man on the team last season.

Cincy Opens Defense Of Cage Crown

MANHATTAN (AP) — Powerful Cincinnati opens defense of its national collegiate basketball championship tonight and the first two steps are expected to be little more than walkovers.

The second-ranked Bearcats of Ed Jucker, back with a team just as tough if not tougher than a year ago, play Creighton (20-4) in the windup of a semifinal doubleheader in the NCAA Midwest Regional. Texas Tech (19-6) and Colorado (18-6) play the 7:30 p.m. opener.

The winners meet Saturday night for the Midwest title and a spot in the national semi-finals and finals at Louisville March 23-24.

Colorado upset heavily-favored Kansas State in the Big Eight Conference race; Texas Tech is back with a veteran team that has won the Southwestern Conference two years in a row; and Creighton, an at-large entry, has one of the most talked-about sophomores in college basketball in 18-year-old Paul Silas, a 6-7, 200-pound pogo stick who averaged 22.7 points and 23.6 rebounds a game.

Rougher going may be ahead for Cincinnati, if and when it gets to Louisville and a possible rematch with top-ranked Ohio State. But none of the three here is considered in the class of the Bearcats, who rolled to a 25-2 record, won their last 14 games, and in the words of coach Jucker are "maybe not as consistent but potentially better" than the team that whipped "unbeatable" Ohio State for the 1961 NCAA title.

The failure of Kansas State to gain the tournament and the general feeling that Cincinnati will romp is expected to hold the crowds well below the 13,000 capacity at K-State's Ahearn Fieldhouse. Some were estimating as few as 4,000 for the semifinals and 6,500 for the final.

Cincinnati, aiming for a record fourth straight Midwest regional championship, has 6-9 Paul Hogue, 6-2 Tom Thacker and 6-0 Tony Yates along with a handful of capable reserves from last year's title team. Jucker also starts a pair of sophomores, 6-5 Ron Bonham and 6-8 George Wilson. Both were brought along slowly but in the last two months have done everything expected of them. The Bearcats stress team play, always look for the good shot as their 45 per cent field goal average indicates, and they work just as hard on defense.

In capturing the Missouri Valley Conference playoff Monday, they chopped Bradley's high-powered offense almost in half, winning 61-46.

Creighton, coached by affable Red McManus, is playing in the NCAA for the first time since 1941, when Eddie Hickey was building the Bluejays from Omaha into a national power. In Silas, Creighton has a "can't-miss" future great, but it's questionable whether the young Negro from Oakland, Calif. can do it alone against a team with Cincinnati's balance and experience.

None of the other Creighton players averages in double figures although another sophomore, Jim Bakos, scored 20 points when the Bluejays won a first-round regional game from Memphis State 87-83 at Dallas Monday.

Texas Tech, which won a first round game from Air Force 68-66 holds an early-season 84-82 double overtime victory over Colorado at Lubbock. Coach Gene Gibson's starters are 6-10 Harold Hudgens, 5-10 Del Ray Mounts, 6-3 Mac Percival, and 6-4 Roger Hennig, all regulars at least two years, and 6-4 Bobby Gindorf, No. 6 man on the team last season.

Las Major Winter Race On Saturday

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Saturday's $100,000 Gulfstream Park Handicap, last big race of the winter for the nation's leading older horses, already has developed into a battle of wits among some of the country's leading trainers and jockeys.

Naturally, the seven or eight horses going in the mile and a quarter feature will have vital roles. Strategy, perhaps more than sheer speed, will determine the winner of about $75,000 first money.

There will be the California star, Four-and-Twenty, handled by the veteran Johnny Longden in the race and trained by his son, Vance. Four-and-Twenty won three stakes in California this winter and is the best from the West at this time.

Then there is Calumet Farm and its cagey trainer, H.A. (Jimmy) Jones, who will saddle Yorky with the veteran Steve Brooks up.

Yorky recently won the Widener at Hialeah and is a 2-1 favorite in the Gulfstream Park feature.

The question of Dorchester Farm Stable's Carry Back is the most intriguing of all. Carry Back has started four times this winter, with three seconds and a third.

Breeder-trainer Jack Price has dropped jockey Johnny Sellers and engaged Manuel Ycaza to ride the stretch-running Florida-bred Saturday.

Thomas To Jump as High As He Can

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—John Thomas, America's greatest high jumper, said he has no certain height in mind for tonight's 22nd annual Knights of Columbus track meet except to jump as high as he possibly can.

He said his first aim is to win in the final meet of the indoor season. "If I can do that," he added, "then I might start thinking about records."

Most observers figure Thomas, 20, of Boston University, can snap the meet record of 6 feet, 9 1/2 inches. He injured his ankle early in the winter, but said he was in good shape after a rugged conditioning program.

Although Thomas is the main attraction for the expected crowd of 7,500 at the Cleveland Arena, there are several other high spots on the program.

The 1,000-yard run, for example, features Bill Crothers, the University of Toronto star who has run under the accepted world record, against George Kerr of Illinois and John Bork, 1961 NCAA champion from Western Michigan.

The mile pits Tom O'Hara of Loyola of Chicago, the defending champ, against Villanova freshman ace Tom Sullivan and Pete Close of the Marines. O'Hara and Sullivan both have run faster than Wes Santee's meet mark of 4:04.6. O'Hara owns a 4:01.6 clocking.

Dave Mills, the big 10 champ from Purdue who is the world indoor record holder for the quarter mile, faces tough competition from Notre Dame's Bill Boyle and Jim Dupree in the 600-yard run.

Fordham's two-mile relay team, anchored by swift Frank Tomez, has announced it will make an all-out assault on the world indoor record of 7:32.8, which was lowered by two seconds a week ago by a Kansas foursome. Pushing the Rams' effort will be strong quartets from Southern Illinois and Toronto's East York track club.

On Way Toward Reverse Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Bruins, National Hockey League have-nots who appeared to be on their way to a record in reverse, suddenly have started reversing their weight around in the Stanley Cup play-off picture.

The last-place Bruins, who hadn't won since Jan. 27, stunned Detroit 4-0 Thursday night and all but ruined the Red Wings' hopes for a playoff spot.

It left the Wings two points back of fourth-place New York in the struggle for the last playoff berth. Each team has four more games to play.

Montreal, shooting for its fifth straight regular season title, all but clinched it with a 6-5 triumph over Chicago in the only other game. The Canadiens lead second-place Toronto by seven points and need a combination of two victories or two Toronto losses for the title.

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann: Our daughter is 17 and utterly impossible. She loves obscene language, dresses like a beatnik, lies constantly, and shows open contempt for everything we stand for. She wants too much too soon. To her, virtue is old-fashioned. She hasn't uttered a civilized word to a member of this family in years. She's been at war with all of us for as long as I can remember.

Don't ask me how she got this way. We've given her love, understanding, and plenty of attention. We've tried to give her worthwhile goals and set a good example. I'm beginning to believe in the Bad Seed theory. This girl was reared just as our other children were. They developed into mature, responsible adults and we're proud of them.

Is it possible that she has a bad strain in her?—N.J.

Dear N.J.: Physical deformities and weaknesses can be inherited but your daughter was not born a liar or a beatnik.

No two children are reared "exactly the same." Whether a child is the eldest, the youngest, or the one in the middle, can have a strong effect on his personality.

You need outside help with your daughter and I hope you get it soon. There has been very little (or no) communication between you two for a long time—if ever.

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter is about to be married. My husband and I are willing to assume the financial responsibilities of the wedding breakfast, the reception, the music, the cake and so on. The groom's parents say we also must pay for the flowers and the clergyman. I know the groom's family should pay for something, but I don't know exactly what. It hardly seems fair that the financial burden should fall entirely on the parents of the bride. What is the groom's family supposed to provide besides the groom? — POORHOUSE HERE WE COME

Dear Poorhouse: Darned little. But cheer up—in the old days the bride's family not only had to pay for almost everything but they also had to present the groom with a dowry (sort of a gift for taking the girl off their hands).

Any store that sells bridal gowns or rents wedding suits will give you a booklet which explains exactly who pays for what.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a senior in high school (female) and am considered above average in intelligence. I got along well in my studies and I'm sure people think I am normal. But I have a feeling that there is something wrong with me—upstairs, I mean.

For the past few months I've been petrified of taking even a short automobile trip with my father. He's a good driver and has never been in an accident. I have no real reason to worry. Yet whenever I say goodbye to my friends, I always have the weird feeling I will never see them again. These morbid thoughts have me scared stiff. Do you think I am going crazy?—PETRIFIED

Dear Petrified: Everyone has fears and flashes of morbid thoughts now and then. They are not signs of insanity. If you are having these thoughts every day, however, I suggest that you see a psychiatrist and get to the bottom of what is bothering you.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Assault Charge For Crashing Into Building

CHICAGO (AP)—A charge of assault with intent to commit murder was lodged Thursday against a motorist who police said deliberately crashed his car into a building in a fit of anger.

The motorist, Jose A. Jaurbe, 32, suffered a broken jaw. Also injured were Jaurbe's girl friend, Annabelle Mattingly, 22, and her sister, Patricia Malay, 21. Miss Mattingly's ankles were fractured and Mrs. Malay suffered internal injuries.

Miss Mattingly signed the complaint against Jaurbe. She told police he drove the car into the building after they had argued.

Negro Pianist Is Robbed Of Savings Again

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—"Sweet Emma the Bell Gal" says she doesn't trust banks.

The Negro jazz pianist, 64, whose real name is Emma Barrett, lost her life savings of $2,500 in December when a man grabbed a shopping bag in which she carried the money.

A few weeks later friends and fans threw a benefit concert and raised another nest egg.

Thursday night she was robbed again. She said a man took $1,000 cash and two checks amounting to $225.

Being Irish the Supreme Thrill On St. Pat's Day

EDITOR'S NOTE—More than 20 million Irish-Americans and their friends will honor the memory of blessed St. Patrick Saturday. The following column, reprinted by request, tells how it feels to be Irish on that day of days.

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—What is it to be Irish?

How can you put the wonder of it into words? If a psychiatrist stretched himself out on his own warm couch after his last customer had gone home, and he dreamed of the man he himself would most like to be—well, he might be perfect, but he'd still be only half an Irishman on St. Patrick's Day.

What is it to be Irish then? It is to have an angel in your mouth, turning your prose to poetry. It is to have the gift of tongues, to know the language of all living things. Does an Irishman pause and turn an ear to a tree? It is because on this day he wants to hear what one sleepy bud says to another as it opens its pale

He's Malcolm Carpenter

Newly Named Astronaut Is Willing to Sacrifice Life

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Malcolm Scott Carpenter, selected suddenly as America's next space pilot, has said often that the conquest of space is an adventure he's willing to give his life for.

The risks, he says, are far overshadowed by the challenge, the chance to be a pioneer in manned exploration of the universe.

Carpenter, 36, a Navy commander, was picked Thursday to ride the next Project Mercury capsule into orbit. His selection by Mercury officials followed disclosure that the designated pilot, Air Force Maj. Donald K. Slayton, has heart trouble.

Carpenter's flight is intended to be very similar to John H. Glenn Jr.'s three-times-around-the-world orbit on Feb. 20. It is scheduled for some time in May. Carpenter was Glenn's backup pilot and worked closely with him for months.

This nation's next space pilot has dreamed often of traveling into the unknown void of space. "Riding the centrifuge," Carpenter says, "I imagine sometimes that I'm not in the flight simulator at all, but in the very capsule itself."

"There can be no substitute, though, for the thrilling reality of the moment when the astronaut realizes he's finally in a good orbit. It will be a moment when he can start to appreciate some new and wonderful sensations."

With four children, the handsome, Colorado-born Carpenter has the largest family of the astronaut team. The children are Mark Scott, 12; Robyn Jay, 8; Kristine Elaine, 6; and Candace Noxon, 5. A fifth child died in 1951 at the age of 6 months.

Carpenter's attractive wife Rene shares his space role in ately. When they are separated for long periods by his rigorous training program, they write long letters. He tells in detail of the progress of Project Mercury and Rene says he once sent her 17 pages.

They long ago learned to live with the prospect of danger in his job. Rene recalls a time when she wasn't so adjusted. She said that when he was a test pilot at Patuxent, Md., she became extremely nervous whenever he didn't show up at 6 o'clock on the dot for dinner.

But they often discussed the perils involved and now spend little time worrying about them.

Both are natives of Boulder, Colo., where Carpenter was born May 1, 1925.

He began his flying career in 1943 in the Navy's V5 training program at Colorado College. After World War II, he entered the University of Colorado and in 1949 received a degree in aeronautical engineering.

After graduation he joined the Navy and became an airborne electronics expert. During the Korean War he was involved in anti-submarine patrol, shipping surveillance and aerial mining in the Yellow and South China seas and in the Formosa Straits.

He graduated from the Navy test pilot school in 1954 and began the hazardous testing task which qualified him as a Project Mercury astronaut.

A specialist in navigation and communications, Carpenter has helped develop an efficient communications system for the Mercury capsule.

Carpenter spends as much of his free time as possible with his family at their home at Langley Air Force Base, Va., home of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's manned space flight center. He enjoys archery, skin-diving and skiing. While on Grand Turk Island in the Bahamas during Glenn's post-flight debriefing. Carpenter rescued a skindiver in distress. He is an Episcopalian.

Carpenter feels that one of the greatest blessings of being named an astronaut is that it rescued him from a two-year tour of duty on an aircraft carrier. His astronaut orders arrived hours before the ship was to carry him to the South Pacific on a non-flying job.

Rummage Sale Given A New Twist

PERU, Ill. (AP)—A minister in this Northern Illinois town has given a new twist to the old fashioned rummage sale and hopes his variation will grow into a nationwide effort to help foreign missionaries.

The Rev. Ralph Burlingham, pastor of the Peru Congregational Church, suggests churches and individuals collect discarded but usable medical equipment—outmoded X-ray machines, operating tables, needles, syringes and the like—and ship them to remote areas where churchmen tell him they are needed sorely.

He is convinced such equipment is in good supply in hospital storerooms across the country and with hardly any effort at all, he has collected a couple of cast-off operating tables and an operating room light originally valued at $5,300.

A chance observation of a new X-ray machine in his home town hospital and an article he read in a church publication gave the Rev. Mr. Burlingham his idea.

The article, written by Dr. Ben Herbster, president of the United Church of Christ, described the lack of equipment in overseas mission stations and hospitals.

What happened to the local hospital's old X-ray machine? The Rev. Mr. Burlingham wondered when he read the article.

A telephone call established that the old machine was junked after the new equipment was installed. He then broadened his survey to determine what equipment was wanted and what was available.

He fired off letters to 13 mission doctors. He visited or made telephone calls to hospitals in central Illinois and Chicago. He contacted the Church World Service Agency of the National Council of Churches to learn what was being done along that line.

Typical of the list of needs was the reply from Dr. Hale Henry Cook, a missionary in India.

He needed any hospital utensils of stainless steel, operating room tables with standard adjustments, bedside locker tables, steel cabinets, one-use needles, syringes, intravenous tubing sets, X-ray cassettes, adjustable over-bed tables, portable, battery-operated electrocardiograph, repairable operating room instruments of stainless steel and stretchers.

The Illinois minister already has received offers of cooperation from two hospitals in Chicago and three in downstate Illinois.

He also found that the United Church of Christ participates in a plan sponsored by the National Council of Churches whereby the United States government pays for the transportation of such supplies from port to port.

He said he learned that Church World Service, an agency of the

Witnesses Planning For Circuit Meet

Twice annually the Christian congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses obeys the admonition to assemble together. This they do weekly as a congregation and semi-annually as a circuit of 17 congregations.

Walter H. Meyer, presiding minister of the Sedalia congregation, announced recently that preliminary plans are being made by at least 15 from the Sedalia area to attend their next circuit assembly, April 20-22 at Warrensburg, Missouri.

"These assemblies," said Meyer, "are, to Jehovah's Witnesses, like the copious showers of spring. Productive, refreshing, up-building and in obedience to scriptural commands of Jesus and the apostles. Hence, at these assemblies the Bible truths discussed are actually refreshing and strengthen the individual in his Christian life and ministry."

The theme selected for this assembly is "Faithfully Increasing Our Praise to Jehovah." In the program beginning Friday evening, the theme will be developed fully.

"We are happy to announce at the present that one of our principle speakers will be Svend A. Jensen, the circuit supervisor for the 17 congregations represented at the assembly. Many people in the Sedalia area will be familiar with Mr. Jensen who has been serving as circuit supervisor in this area for the last five years," Meyer said.

'No Strings' Dampened By Bad Story

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK — (AP) — "No Strings," the new Richard Rodgers musical, manages to be both bright and trite.

All the trimmings are fresh, novel and attractive in the production which premiered Thursday night at the 54th Street Theater. The flaw in an otherwise boldly experimental enterprise is a wishy-washy story.

To consider the pleasures first, there is a set of tunes that shimmer with romance and cut loose with robust verve. In his 37th Broadway sortie, veteran composer Rodgers also doubles, for the first time, as lyricist. The results are proficient rather than up to the superior standards of either of his late partners, Lorenz Hart and Oscar Hammerstein II.

Another asset is the fluid, impromptu staging worked out by director Joe Layton. He also gives the leggy, lusty chorines some tingling dance routines.

As further innovation, the settings by David Hays are casually flexible rather than rigidly realistic.

Now, alas, we come to the activities, centering upon stars Richard Kiley and Diahann Carroll. He portrays a writer who has been bumming around Europe ever since an early win of the Pulitzer prize. Miss Carroll turns up as a refugee from New York's Harlem, who has become the top fashion model of Paris. Romance blooms.

The book, provided by Samuel Taylor, is a mixture of old-fashioned boy-meets-loses-wins girl and oblique approach to that racial integration. Although Rodgers previously has declared that the love story involving a white youth and Negro girl is without special meaning, the circumstance is an inescapable factor for both audience and author.

But at the end of the evening, the yarn shies off with a bland reference to how difficulties back in the states might make it difficult for the couple to settle down. There is a vague promise that later on they'll get together again in their European sanctuary.

The comedy level is less than hilarious.

Noelle Adam appears as a distracting photographer's assistant, and Bernice Massi spices the continental joy-spree background with some hip-tossing choruses. Other able participants are Polly Rowles, Don Chastain, Mitchell Gregg and Alvin Epstein.

The Rodgers songs you are liable to be hearing include "The Sweetest Sounds," "Loads of Love," "Nobody Told Me" and "Look No Further."

"No Strings" is, despite all its lively vigor, a show that never goes anywhere.

Will Miss Second St. Pat's Parade

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—George E. Brind, 75, a retired seaman, says he has missed only one of Savannah's St. Patrick's Day parades since 1896.

But he's about to miss another. Brind fell and broke a leg last week while demonstrating to friends how spry the approach of St. Patrick's Day made him feel.

Doctors say he will be laid up at least a month.

Winter TV Variety Is Holding On

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — (AP) — Spring is not far behind, but the television schedules are still showing signs of winter-type variety — ranging widely during the next seven days from sports specials to another musical, nostalgic look at the Hollywood of the golden days.

Tonight, however, there is one of many network reports on the progress of Mrs. John F. Kennedy in her Asian goodwill tour. Chet Huntley will do the reporting (NBC, 10:30-11 EST).

A game in the world amateur ice hockey championships between a U.S. and Canadian team will be broadcast live from Colorado Springs Sunday by CBS (1:30-4 p.m.). and GE theater (CBS, 9-9:30 p.m.) will start a two-part series based on the real adventures of Marian Miller, a housewife who did Communist espionage for the FBI. "Cops and Robbers (NBC, 10-11) is a project 20 documentary on crime in America with Edward G. Robinson doing the narration.

A star-studded variety show, "Arthur Freed's Hollywood Melody" is Monday night's headliner (NBC, 9-10) with Donald O'Connor, Shirley Jones, Nanette Fabray and Juliet Prowse recalling some great old movie songs.

"Two Black Kings," a suspense tale, is scheduled for Wednesday night's Steel Hour outing (CBS, 10-11) and stars Eva Gabor and James Broderick.

Bob Hope, this time abetted by Ethel Merman, Maximilian Schell, Piper Laurie and Fabian (singing, not acting), will have another special Thursday evening (NBC, 8:30-9:30).

Dentists Not Lacking For Holes to Fill

WASHINGTON (AP)—If Americans find it hard to smile these days, there's a reason. They've got 700 million unfilled cavities in their mouths.

The man who reported this tooth gap is Dr. Donald J. Galagan, chief of the Public Health Service's dental resources.

Galagan, whose testimony was made public Thursday by a House Appropriations subcommittee, said half the people in the United States over 50 haven't got a natural tooth in their heads.

To compound the difficulty, he added, the number of dentists has dropped from 58 per 100,000 population 30 years ago to 46 today.

Requests and Proposals From JFK for Consumers

With Some Taxpayers

Hope Congress Will Take Tougher Stand

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration is hoping Congress will get tougher with some classes of taxpayers than its work on a revenue revision bill so far indicates, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said Thursday.

As the bill now stands, it would give business tax concessions estimated at $1.8 billion to spur plant modernization, and would recoup part of the revenue by a variety of tightening changes. But the gap during the first year of operation is estimated at from $600 million to more than $1 billion. And during that year—beginning next July 1—President

Kennedy had forecast a closely balanced budget.

Dillon, appearing before the House Ways and Means Committee on the administration trade program, wouldn't agree with a Republican questioner, that the bill as approved by the committee for House action is a "budget buster" to the extent of at least $1 billion.

But he said, "I would hope there will be some additional revenue before Congress finishes with it—some changes made."

Apparently the only chance of such changes would be in the Senate, where some members are expected to try to include repeal of the special exclusion and tax credit for dividend income written into the tax laws during President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration.

Kennedy advocated such repeal and estimated it would bring in $450 million a year. The Ways and Means Committee took no action on this item.

Except for the special treatment of dividends, the committee went at least part way with most of Kennedy's revenue-raising recommendations. But in almost every case it scaled down the changes that would have brought in more funds.

Bids for Building Of Barracks Opened

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Bids for construction of a barracks building for 160 enlisted women at Ft. Leonard Wood were opened Thursday by district army engineers.

The apparent low bid of $589,233 was submitted by the E. H. Lawton Construction Co. of St. Joseph, Mo. The government estimate was $505,300.

The building will have 31,000 square feet of space. Of brick wall construction, it will have an adjoining mess and recreation wing.

One Million Workers Affected

Project for Teaching New Skills Receives Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's signature signaled the go-ahead Thursday for a vast project of teaching new skills to thousands unemployed because of automation and to others in low-pay jobs because they lack training.

The new law will extend this aid to a maximum of one million workers between now and 1965 at a cost of $435 million. It was the first major legislation on Kennedy's program to become law this year.

The President, in signing the legislation, praised it as perhaps the most significant in the area of employment since the 1946 act which set a government policy of seeking to maintain full employment.

He said the administration will move promptly and vigorously to launch the new program.

The measure authorizes $5 million for the current fiscal year to get the program organized. The total will increase to $100 million in the 1963 fiscal year starting next July 1 and to $165 million each in 1964 and 1965. If the program works out as hoped, sponsors expect it to be extended.

An estimated 160,000 persons may get the training next year, 285,000 the second year and 570,000 the third. The big jump in fiscal 1965 will be possible because then states will have to match the federal funds.

The secretary of labor will have charge of selecting the trainees and of training payments. The vocational training will be supervised by the secretary of welfare.

A worker who wants to join the program must apply at his local U.S. employment office. He will be interviewed and tested to decide if he is eligible and then he may be referred to the appropriate training group.

First priority will go to jobless persons and heads of farm families with net incomes below $1,200 a year.

The heads of households with three years' work experience will receive training allowances roughly equal to unemployment compensation payments in each state. Jobless youths 19 to 22 may receive training allowances up to $20 a week.

Persons undergoing training away from home may be paid subsistence allowances up to $35 a week and travel allowances not to exceed 10 cents a mile.

Small training allowances also are provided in a stepped-up program of on-the-job training to improve skills of employed workers.

US Plan for Safeguards Is Rejected by Russians

GENEVA (AP)—An abrupt Soviet "no" to President Kennedy's plan for a safeguarded nuclear test ban treaty and clashing plans on how to end the arms race gave the 17-nation disarmament conference a deadlocked look at the very start Thursday.

Soviet rejection of the Kennedy plan was at a sidelines meeting of the three nuclear powers.

Arthur Dean, U.S. nuclear test ban negotiator, proposed conclusion of a treaty based on an American-British draft of April 18 with modifications to safeguard against secret test preparations.

The Soviet negotiator, Semyon Tsarapkin, told Dean and the British delegate, Joseph Godber, the only treaty the Soviet Union would sign was on the basis of a Soviet draft of last Nov. 28. This plan called for reliance on national systems of detection of violations rather than international inspection. His answer was said to have been abrupt and flat, with no sign of any give or take.

This exchange came after Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko clashed in the disarmament conference on nuclear testing policy and presented rival plans for a sweeping attack on the arms race.

Rusk said the nuclear issue was of highest priority because of President Kennedy's intention of resuming U.S. tests in the atmosphere by late April unless there is a safeguarded test ban treaty.

Attempting to hang a label of nuclear guilt around the neck of the United States, Gromyko said Kennedy's plan for tests was a "painful blow" to the conference even before it started and a "sinister omen on the horizon."

If the President goes through with it, he said, the Soviet Union also will test new types of nuclear weapons and the United States will be unable to "divest itself of responsibility."

Rusk replied that the conference met "amid the echoing roars of more than 40 Soviet nuclear explosions" last fall that were prepared in secret during negotiations.

"A 50-megaton bomb does not make the noise of a cooing dove," he said.

It seemed from Gromyko's assertions that Premier Khrushchev, hoping to retain any military advantages gained from the tests last fall, was maneuvering to prevent President Kennedy from launching a new U.S. series.

Both Rusk and Gromyko presented plans aimed at general and complete disarmament, but differing in detail and basic conception.

Rusk called for a 30 per cent cut in three years in nuclear weapons and major conventional arms—such as rockets, big bombers, tanks and warships.

Fellowship Award To Edwin Lee Crow

Edwin Lee Crow, 1609 South Montauk, has received the Petroleum Research Fund Fellowship award at the University of Missouri in Columbia where he is a student.

The award amounts to $900 and fees, according to university president Dr. Elmer Ellis, who made the announcement.

In Effort To Protect Gold Claim

Reported $500,000 In Gold in Caves On Proving Grounds

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Harold Beckwith, Wichita oil man, said Thursday an effort to protect his mother's rights to a reported $500,000 in gold in caves on the White Sands Proving Ground started last fall, "when we discovered the Army was excavating in the area."

The claim of his mother, Mrs. Ova Noss of Clovis, N.M., came to public notice at Santa Fe Wednesday.

The treasure reportedly consists of crudely-refined gold bars and unmined ore in caves around Victoria Peaks, in the San Andres Mountains 35 miles east of Alhambra, N. M. The area now is under Department of Defense control.

"All we want to do is get permission to go into the site to check it," the 36-year-old Beckwith told a reporter. "We would have left the whole thing remain as it was as long as the government had control of the area."

"But we decided against that when we discovered the Army was excavating, and received notice gold bars were removed from one location."

The hoard reportedly dates back to a group of religious dissidents who fled from Mexico generations ago and were wiped out by pursuing Spanish or Mexican soldiers.

Beckwith said the gold ingots and ore were found in 1937 by his stepfather, Milton E. (Doc) Noss, and that he helped his stepfather and another prospector move some of the bars to higher ground in the caves as a youth. He said his mother filed claims to the land in 1949, after Noss was shot to death in Hatch.

107 People Feared Down With Plane

MANILA, Philippines (AP)—The U.S. Air Force reported Friday that a charter airliner with 107 persons aboard is missing and assumed to be down in the Pacific.

The four-engine plane, on charter from Flying Tiger Airlines, was en route from Guam to Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines with 96 Army troops and 11 civilian crewmen.

It was last heard from at 9:16 a.m. Thursday when it was about 270 miles west of Guam, the Air Force said.

"It carried enough fuel for nine hours flying time and was assumed to be down in the Pacific," the spokesman said.

A sea and air search for the plane was launched when the Clark AFB rescue coordinating center declared it missing.

The transport was heard from an hour and 20 minutes after leaving Guam and the pilot at that time reported on course and on time.

US Firm Makes Move

Seek to Export Wheat to China

WASHINGTON (AP)—Applications for permits to export 10.5 million tons of wheat and barley to Red China and North Korea have been filed by the International Trading Co., Seattle, Wash., government officials reported Thursday.

These officials, who declined to be quoted by name, said the applications now are under study by the Commerce Department.

There is presently no trade between the United States and North Korea and Red China.

There is no indication in the applications, officials said, whether the Seattle company has had any direct dealing with the North Korean and Red Chinese governments.

The company may have filed the applications in the hope of entering into a commercial deal with the two governments if the permits were approved.

There was no immediate comment from the company.

The amount of grain covered by the applications would have a value of close to $400 million, it was reported.

One application is for a permit to export 750,000 tons of wheat and the same quantity of barley to North Korea in each of the next three years.

The other application asks permission to export one million tons of wheat and the same quantity of barley to Red China in each of three years.

The Commerce Department, which handles export licenses, presumably will seek President Kennedy's advice before taking any final action on the applications.

Kennedy already knows about them. At his news conference Wednesday, the President said there was no information the Red Chinese had requested U. S. wheat.

Selective Service Adds New I-Y Classification

Dr. Thomas J. Hopkins, chairman of Pettis County Local Board No. 84, Selective Service System, has announced a new classification for registrants as provided in recent amendments to Selective Service regulations.

The new classification, I-Y, serves to identify those registrants who are not presently qualified for military training and service. A registrant in Class I-Y is considered to be qualified for service in the event of a national emergency.

Prior to the new I-Y classification all registrants found not qualified for service had been considered for Class 4-F. The new class I-Y provides a more realistic picture of manpower which might be utilized should the need arise, Dr. Hopkins said.

IRS Men Create Problems

Business Falls Off As 30 Tax Agents Move Into Town

FORDYCE, Ark. (AP)—A task force of tax agents will move out of this southern Arkansas town Friday, leaving the 3,800 residents undecided about which is worse—death or taxes.

About 30 Internal Revenue Service men moved into the basement of the post office March 5 and began calling in taxpayers for audits of their returns.

The result was a 50 per cent slump in business, the chamber of commerce said, and a mass case of nerves for the people of Fordyce and Dallas County, of which it is the county seat.

"The people aren't mad, they're hurt," said Kelsey Caplinger, who operated a men's clothing store. His tax return was checked and a fire loss was disallowed, but no penalty was assessed.

The IRS wouldn't say how many returns it checked, but Mayor Thomas Wynne, who also is an attorney and tax consultant, estimated the number at 1,000. The population of Dallas County is 10,522.

Fordyce's economy depends on the Fordyce Lumber Co., which employs about 700 men in turning the vast pine forests of southern Arkansas into lumber.

Some lumbermen have been allowed to deduct the cost of their gloves, Wynne said, and others have not.

Wynne is puzzled about his own business. "I'm licensed to practice in tax court," he said. "I've been doing returns for 10 years and things that I've always done are not being accepted."

The IRS said the survey was "an experimental thing, an effort to see if the operation could be made more useful and efficient."

But it's not what they did, said the mayor, it's the way that they did it. "One woman was called for a week in advance, and she worried and worried," he said. "Then when she got there, all they did was ask her if she had filed a tax return."

The town's weekly newspaper, the Fordyce News Advocate, criticized the IRS move. "This is a new experience for the people," wrote Editor Bill Whitehead in a front-page editorial. "They simply don't know what to expect."

Consequently, buying has stopped, and merchants say this month's business is ruined.

Participating In County 4-H Achievement Events

Encouraging 4-H members to participate in County Achievement Days is one way to help them gain more from being a member of the 4-H Club Program. There are usually three ways in which a 4-H member can participate. The first way is through exhibiting articles or items that they have made in their 4-H project. The second way is through demonstrations. They show the audience new skills which they have learned as a result of their project work. The third way to participate is in judging events, and these help 4-H members learn an orderly process of decision making.

Exhibiting is important because it helps the 4-H member evaluate in carrying out project requirements. Blue, red, and white ribbons are awarded the articles or items made so that a member has some idea whether they have followed the recommendations carefully and used the best methods of construction taught by their project leader. Boys and girls learn the good points from having done successful work and also learn on what areas they need to improve.

One question which we hear frequently concerns whether a boy or girl may make changes or improvements in their 4-H project work after local achievement days. Yes, they may. One of the important reasons for having the local achievement day is to allow project leaders to see all articles boys and girls have made and to make constructive suggestions on how they can improve them. A boy or girl may then take their article back home and make improvement before placing it on exhibit at County Achievement Day.

The second way that a 4-H member participates in County Achievement Day is through project demonstrations. A boy or girl may demonstrate how to do a certain skill which they have learned. Demonstrating is actually telling how and showing how to make a particular article or to carry out a particular article. It gives a 4-H member practice in public speaking when they give the demonstration before an audience.

Judging in a judging event is a third way in which a 4-H member can participate. Through this process, the member learns to make orderly decisions. The principles learned in judging will help them in later life to think through problems or decisions that confront them. There are usually judging contests in foods, clothing, home management, home grounds, livestock, dairy, gardening and woodwork. Members learn the important things to look for in placing the four articles in the class and give reasons for placing as they did.

Other divisions of the County Achievement Day are dress review, grooming contest, and public speaking for junior leaders.

Never has spring been so suited to femininity as this one and shown are four very attractive outfits for the Easter Parade from Lockett's New Urban Shop. They are left to right:

Naomi Brown in a delightful version by R&R originals in the spring's beloved polka dot. There is nothing so versatile for early spring, and nothing that will suit so many occasions as the lovely free flowing silhouette in navy blue with white dots. Her hat is an Italian import. Her accessories include five strand white pearls and crisp white gloves.

Wearing the newest kind of knit, the ribbon knit, is Doris Stott. This black ribbon knit sheath, designed by Alice Stuart, is a two piece dress and has an elasticized waist band. Styled with elegance it will be suitable for any occasion.

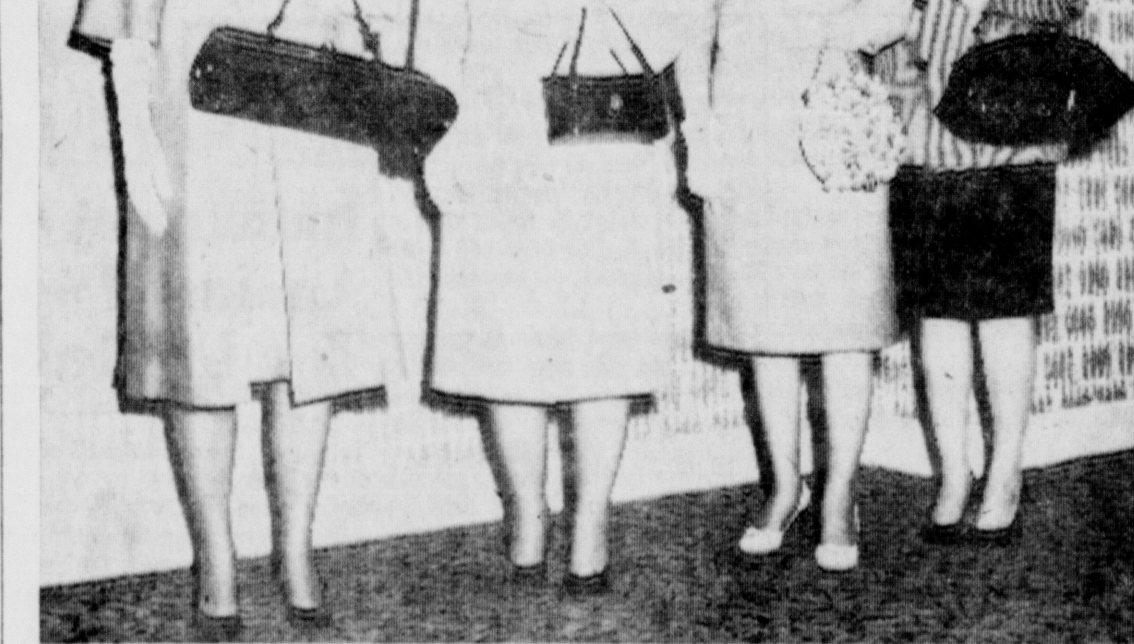

Mary Jane Wilson wears a jacket dress of pure silk shantung in natural beige by Jonathan Logan, the dress beneath the jacket is a short sleeved sheath with a softly draped cumberbund at the waist. Her filmy hat is of beige meringue net.

Completing her costume are bone shoes and purse with several strands of beige beads.

A knitted bare armed sheath topped by a clever black and white checked chanel jacket is modeled by Bonnie Schrader, designed for a busy young executive who must look neat and smart for every occasion. The dress has a patent belt and her little pill box hat is also of patent.

J. W. Frederich and sons, Kansas City, Kan., returned to her home after spending a week with her mother, Mrs. A. E. Wright and sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Frederich.

Welcome as the first signs of spring are the new fashions at Penney's. Left to right are:

Mrs. Herbert Taylor, who shows the coat and dress ensemble. The one-piece sheath dress has short cap sleeves, mandarin collar, and side slits at hemline. The matching full length duster reveals a jewel neckline with self novelty trim. The rough straw profile brim hat with maline veiling crown and small velvet band trim, together with purse, shoes and gloves completes the lovely costume.

Suits this spring burst forth in fresh flower tones and Mrs. Raymond Roberts styles the all important boxy wool and silk (nubby texture) tweed two-piece suit. The jacket is lined and has a sheath skirt. Also fashioned is the new spring hat of bumper cloche straw cloth and flowers with flower bag to match. The purse, shoes, and gloves all from Penney's complete the costume.

Mrs. Bill Fidler models the easy to wear walking suit. The jacket is black and white check laminated knit with black velvet collar trim. The skirt is black wool and nylon blend, creating one of spring's newest fashions. The high crown cloche rough straw hat with velvet band and button crown with veil trim. Her shoes and bag are black and she wears white gloves.

stating that the greater part of the funds came from the United Fund, but was not enough to carry them through. She expressed appreciation to the board for its help during the year and especially the ice cream social for which a great part of its success was due to Marjorie Garanson, a member of the board. This not only helped financially but also for good public relations in the community.

A plaque was presented to the Business and Professional Women's Club for its contribution in the Christmas bell ringing, having ranked top in the amount of funds collected. Jessie Goist, president of BPWC, accepted the plaque for her organization.

Wilks, two years; Lacy Belt, Kenzie Miller, Gerald Cecil, George Dugan, St. John Ellison, George H. Scruton and Vivian Warren, three years.

Numerous civic organizations were represented among them being the Golden Agers, sponsored by the Salvation Army.

The meeting closed with benediction by Joseph Allen.

Most people think of the Salvation Army as a philanthropic organization, he pointed out, and it is. It is dedicated to welfare, the helping of people in need, but it is for the spiritual need as well, through religion. It is a place for people to go when they are in distress, when they have reached the bottom and there is no hope. The Salvation Army, he said, may be found at a time of disaster serving coffee, doughnuts, soup, chili, for as many days as it takes. It is ready in emergency.

The meeting was presided over by W. A. Smith, chairman, with scripture reading and invocation by Lt. Virginia Griffey.

Kennie Miller was introduced as a new member of the board. A musical program was presented by the Y. P. Songsters, who with Capt. Doris Jones, sang three of the Salvation Army songs. The teenage singers were: LaVonne Esser, Val Schrader, Rita Cason and Shirley Miller. Capt. Jones then sang a solo. The accompanist was Lt. Griffey, who presented the program.

Careful Eye
On Lawyers
In Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Communist Hungary's lawyers must keep a wary eye on fellow members of the profession or it may cost them money.

The situation has arisen because attorney Bela Farkas embezzled 40,000 forints — $3,330 at the official rate — from a client.

The authorities decreed that if one member of a lawyers' co-operative embezzles money, all members will be held responsible for paying back the client.

Hungarian lawyers are not permitted to practice privately but must work in co-operatives. These are pools of lawyers, usually 15 strong, with an overseer who distributes the briefs and hands out salaries paid by the state.

Lawyers came under a heavy cloud after the Communist takeover in 1948. Nearly half of them had to seek other work. The remainder were subjected to rigid screening to establish their political reliability.

Many lawyers earn no more than a skilled worker — around $115 monthly.

Some who have an especially favorable background get the choicest briefs. They are permitted to collect special fees from the client.

Space Capsule
Carried Cargo
Of Dollar Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Friendship 7 space capsule apparently carried a contraband cargo of souvenir dollars as it orbited the earth and project officials are going to take steps so that it doesn't happen again.

One space agency official termed it a "foolish business" and congressmen expressed fear such articles might jam delicate electronic equipment.

Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., testifying before the House Space Committee, said he knew of only one $1 bill. That was wrapped in a wire bundle aboard the capsule.

However, Lt. Col. John A. Powers, the astronauts' public information officer, told newsmen something like 200 bills were hidden aboard Glenn's space craft by the launch crew.

He showed newsmen Monday one of the bills on which he was collecting signatures of the astronauts for a workman who had been stationed on the high gantry that serviced Friendship 7 before it rocketed into history.

Presbyterian Church Women

The Women's Association of the Broadway Presbyterian Church held its March meeting Thursday afternoon in the sanctuary, at which time Mrs. M. G. Witzgruber reviewed the book: "Alaskan Apostle."

Witch's Home?

Still standing and carefully preserved at Danvers, Mass., is the home of Rebecca Nourse, executed in the 17th century for witchcraft.

entire party was held with Mrs. Hazel Bissett being responsible for the affair.

Refreshments were served.

This group looks like they might have just arrived at the Bothwell Hotel for a BPWC meeting, and indeed that is exactly where they are and what they are doing there — attending a club social meeting. They are part of the program, a style show, and all except Kathryn Rosencrans, second from the right, are modeling clothes from Flowers. The are left to right:

Georgia Giokaris wearing a cocktail dress which is a shaft of sheer crepe styled with great simplicity. Rising to a high bateau neckline in front, the plunging "V" back is dramatically emphasized with a high placed bow. The glitter of Eisenberg ice and the glamour of a little wrap of autumn haze mink complete this beautiful costume.

The costume look translated in a homespun of cotton and flax is found in this suit dress worn by Maurine Bloom. It is strikingly colored in French blue and white. Under the coat is a simple sleeveless sheath which could stand on its own merits. Her hat is a deep crowned toque of flowers.

A black and white story told in cotton eminently suitable for town and travel worn by Helen Giokaris is styled with the Chanel like jacket which is equally noted for its comfort and good looks. Rain or shine, the white city slicker is fashion worthy and great fun to wear.

How Katie Rosencrans got in this picture with all the models from Flowers we don't know but she seems to fit in real good, probably because this cape suit was made by a Vogue pattern from Flower's. The material probably came from there, too. Anyway Millie Remer, also a BPWC member, did her share toward the style show by making this suit of anammon twist wool, and beige print. With it Katie is wearing a milan straw hat, a high crown double brim sailor, black shoes and carrying a black patent bag, all from Flower's.

Nyra Price wears a faultlessly fashioned semi-fitted silhouette suit of paeu de glace' with a standby collar of natural mink. To complete the costume she wears a beaded pillbox and deep brown accessories.

Captivating are the costumes designed for the spotlight for spring. The ones shown are from Montgomery Ward's. Left to right are:

Virginia Gilpin whose ensemble consists of a turquoise sheath dress of shantung with jewel neckline, highlighted with novelty bows. The sleeves are three-quarter length. With this she wears a tall toque of black straw trimmed in white, long white gloves and pumps and bag of black calf.

Dorothy Huddleston is wearing a navy shantung styled dress with smooth skirt of box pleats, a large collar with vestee of white and has a leather belt of blue. She carries a navy clutch bag and wears navy pumps, and short white gloves. Her white straw hat is trimmed in nylon net and flowers.

Mary Gardner has chosen a beige shantung jacket dress. The dress has a slim skirt and the blouse and lining of the jacket are of multi-colored silk. Her ensemble is complete with a pastel orange capulet of rayon flowers, long gloves of matching shade, bone calf pumps and bone marshmallow pouch bag.

Natural Waistline Rates At Top In Resort Styles

NEW YORK CITY, N. Y.—Fashion for resort and cruise wear, in addition to providing lucky winter vacationists with clothes, serve another important purpose. They point the way to the styles we'll be wearing in spring.

Thus the new resort fashions with natural waistline gently flared or paneled skirts and the soft look herald the arrival of more such clothes for spring.

Whether you're taking a winter vacation or not, it might be a good idea for you to shop the stores for a look at the new resort fashions. You may find clothes you'll want to buy now and put away for next summer. And you'll get some very sound clues as to what spring will bring.

The cruise fashions now in the stores forecast accurately the new look of softness for spring. There's a marked return to femininity that's carried out through fabrics as well as silhouette. Soft silks, silk linens and print linens appear throughout cruise collections.

Even the colors are soft ones: carnation pink, avocado, apricot, sand, bluebell and turquoise. The pastels are not banal or washed out. Rather, they are clear colors that are gentle and therefore, easy to wear for nearly all of us.

Skirt lengths for resort clothes remain just what they have been, a bit below the knee. When you shop, bear in mind that a narrow skirt will ride up far more than a flared one when you're seated. So don't fix on one particular length in shopping for new fashions. A dress with a slim skirt should be a trifle longer.

Thrilling Sport

Bobsledding originated in Switzerland about 1890 and its invention is attributed to two American vacationers who wanted to increase the thrills of tobogganing, so they added runners to increase the toboggan's speed.

Mortality Rate

The mortality rate of the United States fell to the lowest level in six years during 1961. The nation's 1961 death rate was about 9.3 per 1,000 population, down from 9.5 in 1960 and only slightly above the all-time low recorded in 1954.

Joan Scott and Harley Koestner United In Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Joan Scott and Mr. Harley Koestner were united in marriage Sunday, Feb. 18, at the Trinity Lutheran Church in Russellville, at two o'clock in the afternoon. The Rev. R. G. Wessels performed the impressive double ring ceremony. Lighted tapers and huge bouquets of white gladioli decorated the church.

Miss Evelyn Rathel played traditional wedding selections and accompanied Miss Shirley Schoch, who sang "O Promise Me" preceding the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" at the close of the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white Chantilly lace gown designed with a scalloped square neckline accented with sequins and pearls. The long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists. The fitted bodice was attached to a bouffant floor length skirt trimmed with numerous wide ruffles over the hand.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Alfred Brandt, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaid, Miss Wanda Koestner, sister of the groom, wore identical red velvet ballerina length dresses fashioned with a draped neckline and full unpressed pleated skirts. Each wore a white headpiece fashioned with flower petals and pearls with face length veils. They carried bouquets of red and white carnations.

Miss Julie Knoernschild, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Knoernschild, Jefferson City, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a red velvet dress and scattered petals from a gold basket.

Master Kent Teel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carson Teel, Columbia, served as ring bearer. He carried the rings on a white heart-shaped satin pillow.

The mother of the bride chose a beige two-piece knit dress and brown accessories. The groom's mother wore a navy and white silk dress with black accessories. Both wore corsages of white gardenias.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the parish hall. The table was covered with a white cut-work tablecloth over red. Red and white tapers in crystal holders flanked with a bouquet of red and white carnations. The three-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was served by Mrs. Rollie Brizendine, Mrs. Curtis Wyss, Miss Carol Koestner, Miss Rollie Mills and Mrs. Ward Johnson. Miss Gladys Brandt and Mrs. Darrell Kirchner were in charge of the gifts. The guest book was attended by Miss Linda Koestner.

The couple left following the reception for a wedding trip. For traveling, the bride wore a blue wool dress with black accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride is employed by the State Division of Insurance in Jefferson City.

The groom is presently employed by the Charles E. Still Hospital in Jefferson City.

The couple will make their home in Jefferson City.

Detroit Mayor Sends Letter To Mike Collins

The following is a letter received by Michael J. Collins, 315 West Fifth, from the Mayor of Detroit. Collins observed his 100th birthday Wednesday.

"Dear Mr. Collins:

"Having two sons, Steve and Frank, in our city, and having been a visitor yourself, are obvious reasons to believe you have firm ties with Detroit.

"Therefore, on behalf of the citizens of Detroit, I extend warmest congratulations and best wishes on your special birthday, February 28, which will mark your 100th year. Living a century in the state of Missouri, where your memories span the days when the West was truly a new frontier to complex innovations of today's modern society, is a panorama of history that much enriched your present life.

"On a personal note, as a fellow Irishman and staunch Democrat, it is doubly a pleasure to honor you. I only hope I can match your years with the Party.

"I know your numerous friends and acquaintances of Sedalia will provide a warm celebration for you on Saturday. The people of Detroit join them.

"Sincerely,"

Ladylike Fashions Viewed For Women's Spring Wear

NEW YORK (AP) — In the nick of time dress designers have rescued the American woman from the psychiatrist's couch.

After more than a decade of Parish-inspired fashions that flattened her bosom, shifted or ignored her waistline altogether, and minimized her hips, she was getting a complex over having been built like a girl in the first place.

Now at least the members of the New York Couture Group have agreed that it is all right — indeed fashionable — to have a ladylike figure.

These designers previewing their spring collections during their semi-annual fashion press week agree wholeheartedly that romantic femininity is the keynote of style for the immediate future.

Still, each has his own idea as to how to make clothes that make ladies look even more ladylike.

Some designers emphasize femininity with bareness; others with big belts. Some do it with flare; others with snug fit. Some are all for soft, supple drape; others settle for ruffles. But all chorus an approval of curves.

Specifically, the woman will find these All-Woman trends in fashions for spring:

SILHOUETTE — Shoulders are narrow. Waistlines are high. Often the milriffs are wound as tightly as in an Egyptian mummy. Skirts are full, but narrow at the waist.

SLEEVES — These are still conducive to suntan collecting, being either the barest of caps, or nothing at all. Elbow lengths in coats and jackets are still the vogue.

NECKLINES — Either collars are so large they are practically capes, or collars are nil. Indeed necklines daringly plunge to waistlines with only big bows, cummerbunds and wide belts preserving modesty. Backs are bare, bare, bare, too.

A few designers see no reason for necklines—that is, shoulders—in dresses at all. But as an afterthought they cover their bare shoulders with little shelter jackets.

HEMLINES — Designers are satisfied with the lengths they've been going to for the past few seasons. No change there.

RUFFLES — They flutter and flounce all over the place; down the fronts of little blouses. They ripple down shoulder blades to hemlines. Or they spiral around and around, or sweep diagonally from side to side to hem.

PLEATS — Walking leaway in the form of pleats tuck into slim skirts. Soft pleats fold into flared skirts, both at the waistline and at the hemline.

COSTUMES — Jackets, capes and coats with flamboyant linings that match dresses or blouses of the same fabric are still in the spring picture. Some coats and jackets flare gently from the shoulder blades, but most fit snugly in a high waisted manner front and back.

FABRICS — They are the soft, supple, clingy, drapy kind that figuratively make the most of a woman, especially when cut on the bias. Materials used for coats and jackets are crispier, less bulky than in previous seasons. Plaids are more bland in color, tweeds on the other hand are spicier.

Silks, chiffons, crepes and a highly disciplined fabric called alaskan are favorites for spring clothes.

PATTERNS — Floral prints are gigantic garden riots combining colors that Nature never dreamed of, often on black, brown or gold backgrounds.

What Cotton Can Do All-Cotton Wardrobe Goes On a World Fashion Tour

By GAILE DUGAS
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK—The wardrobe of Penne Percy, the 1962 Maid of Cotton, shows just what cotton can do. Starting with active sports clothes and going right on through to long, gala ball gowns, cottons perform.

This year's Maid will open her tour in Canada, then go on to the United States and Europe. Her clothes, therefore, must be right for many climates and many occasions. And naturally, everything in her wardrobe is cotton, all the way through.

For sports, she will have fashions in bright citrus shades of lime, lemon and orange as well as in the popular red, white and blue theme. These are cut from sturdy ducks, piques, cotton knits and denims.

Corduroy is featured for the Maid's travel costumes. One suit in this fabric is done in a rose shade with flyaway jacket and skirt that displays hipline fullness. There are many cotton tweeds in both black and white and golden brown. And, of course, three-piece ensembles are important here.

For daytime, black and white combinations rate as color themes. There are big black and white checks, bold stripes and novelty woven cottons. And, in case of rain, there's a white poplin raincoat with lowered waistline.

Evening gowns are done in pastel cotton satins, printed piques, fine failles and laces. Many have long, narrow skirts; some have the true ball gown fullness. Several are worn with their own matching stoles.

Couple Is Sought In Kidnaping

BLACKWELL, Okla. (AP) — A young couple in an old car are prime suspects in the kidnaping-slaying of a 39-year-old Bartlesville housewife.

No pickup order was issued for the unidentified couple, but north-central Oklahoma officers pieced together descriptions and other evidence and kept up a search for them.

Three persons reported seeing a young man and woman run from the granary where the body of Mrs. Bertha Bartholomew was found Wednesday about five hours after she and two adopted children were reported missing from their rural home near Bartlesville.

The children were released unharmed. Three-year-old Martin Bartholomew, leading his 19-month-old sister, Leslie Ann, pointed the way to his mother's body after a motorist found them along a highway.

Officers said they probably did not see their mother shot in the head with a .38 pistol.

Kay County Atty. Ralph C. Haynes said three witnesses told of seeing the man and woman run from the granary 11 miles east of Blackwell and speed away in a car. They estimated the time at 5:15 p.m., about the same time Mrs. Bartholomew is believed to have been slain.

The vehicle matched the description of a car reported seen near the Bartholomew home. A deputy sheriff told of seeing a young man putting oil in a similar car near the death scene, about 80 miles west, shortly before the body was found.

Woman Admits Roy Of Loan Association

ATLANTA (AP) — A woman arrested in Cape Girardeau, Mo., in connection with a loan association robbery there, has admitted, federal officials said, that she held up a loan association in nearby DeKalb County and obtained $660.

Robert Sparks, assistant U. S. attorney, said Katherine Evangelina Hazleton, 35, of Doraville, Ga., was arrested March 8 in Cape Girardeau, following the robbery of a loan association there.

C. E. Weeks, FBI agent, said the woman told officers she took the money from the Piedmont Federal Savings and Loan Association here on Jan. 15 and fired a shot at E. A. Barton, president of the firm. It missed him and the .22 caliber bullet was found in the wall of Barton's office.

Young Couple Found Slain In Kentucky

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP) — Two fishermen found a dying schoolgirl and the body of her 19-year-old husband in an isolated lovers lane near Ashland Thursday, victims of an unknown killer.

"It looked like a gunman opened the car door and sprayed the inside with bullets," an investigating officer from the state police said.

Brenda Lou Fraley Howard, 17, an honor student in her senior year at Ashland High School, died in a hospital two hours after being found. Donald Ray Howard of Keneva, W. Va., died in the front seat of the car.

It was only after their deaths that parents of the couple learned the victims had been secretly married Feb. 17. The teen-agers had told friends they planned to marry in June, after Brenda graduated.

The girl died wearing a diamond engagement ring. Officers found her wedding band in a purse in the back seat of the car.

Detective Sgt. Billy Joe Van Hoose of the state police said the motive for the killings had not been established. He ruled out robbery, saying a wallet containing $146 in Howard's pocket.

A pistol that hadn't been discharged recently was in the glove compartment. Officers theorized that Howard was shot as he attempted to get the weapon. His body was slumped in the front seat, his wife in the back seat.

An autopsy report stated that Mrs. Howard had been severely beaten, slashed on the arms with a knife and shot three times in the head. The medical examiner said it had not been determined whether she had been raped.

Robert L. Steele, 1313 East Tenth, was admitted to Missouri Pacific Hospital, St. Louis, for surgery Monday.
